VILLAGE OFFICIALS TO BE ELECTED FOR 1 YEAR TERMS APR. 17

New Law Applies to 1934; Elections Biennial Thereafter

Village officials will be elected for one year only at the forthcoming annual election to be held on April 17. This departure from the regular custom of electing officials for two year terms is in accord with changes in municipal election laws enacted by the 1933 general assembly.

Most important of the changes is the provision that all municipal officials including police magistrates, elected at the regular election in 1934 shall serve for a term of only one year. Thereafter, beginning in 1935, there will be a regular municipal election every two years, at which time will be elected the entire village board including the president, and also clerk and treasurer.

The time of the elections remains unchanged. Vacancies occurring in Antioch this year include three trustees, village clerk and two members of the library board.

The last day for filing petitions with the village clerk will be March 15, and the final day for withdrawal of candidates is March 17.

Sister Of Antioch Woman Passes Away

Death Comes to Mrs. Mattie Tiedt After Illness at Gaggin Home

Mrs. Mattie Tiedt, 62, sister of Miss Mary Gaggin with whom she has made her home at intervals during the past two years, passed away at the Gaggin home Saturday morning after a lingering illness of several months.

Mrs. Tiedt was well-known in Antioch and in Salem Township, where her kindly personality won her a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was born July 13, 1871, in Salem Township, Kenosha County, Wisconsin, the daughter of Thomas and Norah Gaggin, and her entire childhood was spent in that vicinity. Her marriage to Dr. Arthur O. Tiedt, a practicing physician also formerly of Salem, took place in September, 1903, in Porterville, Calif. Dr. Tiedt, before his death five years ago, hosted many friends in this vicinity as well as through the West, and enjoyed an established popularity.

For a few years the couple made their home in California and New Mexico, later moving to Englewood, Colorado, a suburb of Denver, where they maintained their residence until Dr. Tiedt's death. Mrs. Augusta Tiedt, mother of the doctor, still resides in Englewood.

Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Gaggin and Mrs. Margaret Felter, Antioch; and three brothers, Tom of Antioch, Dr. Frank Gaggin, Chicago, and John, Salem Township. Funeral services were held Monday morning at Strang's funeral home, Rev. L. V. Siller officiating.

Ex-Service Men Are Invited to Deerfield

All Republican ex-service men are requested to attend a meeting to be held at 8:00 o'clock Friday night in the Masonic Temple, in Deerfield, to hear plans for the biggest Republican rally ever held in Lake County.

Cards announcing the meeting are signed by Len Hook, chairman, and Dan Hunt, secretary.

Dr. Thompson May Address Men's Club

The Men's Club is assured of an interesting evening for their next dinner, according to Rev. L. V. Siller, who said that it was hoped that Dr. John Thompson of the Chicago Temple, First Methodist Church of Chicago, would appear to give the evening's address.

The men will entertain their wives and lady friends at this meeting.

New Water Tower Rises Above The Old

Two more days, then the familiar rat-a-tat of pneumatic riveting machines will rend the peaceful quiet of Antioch. The sounds, unusual to most residents, will come from Antioch's new water tower, and will mean that the construction has reached the point where all steel supports are in place and that the 100,000 gallon tank is being placed atop the 100 ft. high framework. Such was the opinion of Edward Alt, of the Chicago Bridge & Iron Works, contractors, who looked in on the local job yesterday.

A. E. Rye of Chicago is the company's foreman, and he is assisted by five local men: Chris Mortensen, C. E. Gaffey, Red Rollins, George Meyer and Charles Laycock. A gallery of spectators have watched the construction work with interest.

HORNER WANTS 54 MILLION TO REPLACE OLD PROPERTY TAX

House Refuses to Reconsider Passage of School- Aid Measure

Local school taxes may soon be reduced despite Governor Horner's apparent resolve to appropriate all revenue for "state purposes," it appeared yesterday, when the House refused to reconsider its approval by 110 to 2 of the Schmuckenberg bill to divert 98 per cent of liquor revenue for school purposes.

Following the passing of this bill in the House Tuesday, in the face of his expressed opposition, the governor announced that he favored increasing the state common school fund by ten million dollars through a diversion of city and county gasoline taxes. He held a conference with Democratic leaders to rush the drafting of a new bill, hoping that the House would reconsider its action on the following day.

Instead, assemblymen administered two other hard jolts: The Senate voted, 35-6 in approval of the House bill permitting sale of beer over the bar, a sufficient majority to carry over Horner's threatened veto; and the House adopted by 84 to 9 the Powers amendment to the liquor law providing that no container shall be labeled whiskey which does not contain 75 per cent of four-year-old whiskey.

What Price Education? Republicans and many Democrats are aroused by the governor's desire to absorb for the state budget the revenue from the new liquor and sales taxes.

Director of Finance Ames told the House last week that these taxes would amount to $54,000,000 this year, $6,000,000 coming from the liquor tax and $48,000,000 from the sales tax.

Gov. Horner says the sales tax must be used entirely to replace the state property tax. State tax collections during the ten year period, from 1922 to 1932, show that the average collection in the period was $22,992,505.43. Thus, it is as plain as the nose on a face that if the state gets $54,000,000 from sales and liquor taxes this year, the Democratic administration will have $31,000,000 more than the average income of the state for the last ten years.

The Republicans demand that this surplus be added to the regularly levied school distributive fund of $10,000,000, making a total of more than $40,000,000 for the fund without levying any new taxes. The increased allotments from the distributive fund would not only take the schools out of the financial bog, but would result in reductions in school taxes in practically every school district in Illinois.

Kin of Antioch Woman Gets Military Post at Moscow Embassy

Major Philip Faymonville, one of President Roosevelt's military aides, and nephew of Mrs. Catherine Brand, housekeeper at St. Peter's Rectory, has been designated military attaché at the Moscow embassy.

PURE MILK TO PROPOSE NEW AGREEMENTS

Plan to Amend Member- ship Agreement at An- nual Meeting Tuesday

Proposal to amend the Pure Milk Association membership agreement will be made at the Ninth Annual Meeting of the Pure Milk Association, convening in Chicago next Tuesday, March 13, at the Auditorium Theatre.

The proposed amendment would authorize the Association to segregate its surplus milk so that it may be manufactured and provide better returns than is now possible. To do this, it is necessary to amend the membership agreement which the voting delegates at the Annual Meeting can authorize the management to do.

To Elect Directors. Other important business of the day includes the elections of these District Directors who have been nominated by the respective districts to serve them.

It is expected that the membership will be greatly interested in the Annual Report of the Secretary-Manager Don N. Geyer, who will give a resume of the past year, marked as it has been with important events, and recommended the policy to be followed during the coming year.

Word reaching the Central Office from Local Secretaries and the various cooperating railroads, indicated that the 1934 Pure Milk Association Annual Meeting will be the largest yet held. Last year the meeting attracted 5,000 men and women.

Legionnaires Announce Second Dinner Dance

Antioch Legionnaires have announced that the second annual dinner dance to be given by the local post will be held at Bruno Rojewski's Pasadena Gardens Thursday, April 5, at 8:00 o'clock. The committee in charge includes Otto Klass, chairman; Walter Hill, John Heran, Dr. L. J. Zimmerman, Bruno Rojewski, Tom Sullivan, Chas. McCormick, Clarence Shultz, Ben Rosenstock, and William Hallways.

The first event of the kind was held by the local post last February in St. Peter's Hall, Antioch, and was attended by over 300. Originally planned as a Washington birthday event, the dinner last year was held February 20, but was postponed this year because of the Lenten season.

The local post has been complimented for being the first in the district to stage such an annual event, and upon its high order of leadership.

New CWA Projects Held Up Till New Wage Scale Is Set

Approval of new CWA projects or extensions will be delayed until a new uniform wage scale for laborers is fixed throughout the county and perhaps the nation, according to Mayor George B. Bartlett.

Action to approve a uniform wage has been taken by districts in the county at a number of meetings held this week. S. M. Wallace, timekeeper for the high school project, stated yesterday: "A meeting called by the Grayslake and Round Lake districts at Grayslake Tuesday night, recommended that CWA laborers' pay be raised to 60 cents per hour, and that skilled laborers receive ten per cent less than the Union scale for skilled workmen. Project Engineer F. B. Biecke was present at the meeting.

Wallace said yesterday that he expected Antioch automatically to approve this action, or be included with those districts which had approved it. The recommendation will be submitted to the Waukegan office for consideration. If approved there, it will be sent to Washington, there to await with hundreds of others, federal approval, rejection, or modification.

Bluff Lake Summer Resident Passes Away

Death Takes Elmer Sueske, President of the Sueske Brass, Copper Co.

Elmer F. Sueske, for twenty years a summer resident of Bluff Lake, passed away Tuesday, after an illness of several months. He was president of the Sueske Brass & Copper Co., and was one of the dominant factors in that industry in Chicago.

His death comes as a shock to his many friends in the lake region and in Chicago, particularly as he was only forty-two years of age. He was the son of Joseph and Otella Sueske, and the husband of Emma Steinhilber Sueske.

Surviving him are his wife, his mother, a brother, Walter, and a sister, Caroline.

He was a member of the Chicago Athletic Association, Medinah Country Club, the German Club of Chicago, Rotary Club of Chicago, Northwestern Lodge, I. O. O. F., Lakeview Council, Logan Square Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Lakeview Chapter R. A. M., St. Bernard Commandery, Consistory, and the Medinah Temple.

SMOKE FROM OIL FIRE DAMAGES THE FIRST NAT'L BANK

Basement Fire Extinguished with Chemicals by Masked Firemen

Fire which might have destroyed the records and furnishings of the First National Bank Monday morning about 10:30 was averted through the efforts of several Antioch firemen who donned gas masks, descended to the basement and extinguished the fire.

The blaze started, it is believed, as a result of the pilot light in the oil burner going out. The inflowing gas ran over the floor and became ignited from the still hot burner. Flames leaped up around the boilers, and dense smoke filled the entire building, driving employees and patrons into the street.

Although two fire trucks appeared on the scene, the hoses were not used. The fire was extinguished by chemicals which were sprayed on the flames by Lew Van Patten, and Cicero Vos, while Herman Rosling turned off the oil burner.

Damage to furnishings and walls was estimated at about $800, according to S. B. Nelson, cashier.

Called to Grass Fire. The department was called this afternoon about 1:30 to Masek's Filling Station north of town, where a grass fire in the rear was threatening the station.

COUNCIL PONDER LIQUOR LICENSE; TO PASS ORDINANCE

Tavern License Set at $360 Per Year; Fix Clos- ing Hours

Due to proposed minor amendments Antioch's liquor license ordinance was not passed at the regular meeting of the village board Tuesday night; however, all points relating to licenses and fees were agreed upon and the document is now in the hands of the village attorney for revision. Upon receipt of the revised ordinance it will be enacted at a special meeting of the board the first of the coming week, in the opinion of Roy L. Murrie, village clerk.

Taverns to Pay $360. According to the provisions of the ordinance, Antioch's taverns where liquor may be sold and consumed on the premises, will be required to pay a license of $360 per year, and the number of such taverns is limited to four, the number now operating within the village limits. Tavern licenses are designated as Class A.

Class B licenses are required of dealers for retail sale of alcoholic liquors, other than malt beverages, not for consumption on the premises. Such licenses will cost $150.

Retail dealers of malt beverages for consumption on premises only will be required to buy class C licenses, which will sell for $50. Class C licenses will be designated as club licenses.

Clubs May Get Permits. Clubs and societies not regularly engaged in any retail business may secure permits to sell malt beverages for 24 hour periods for a fee of five dollars. Applicants for permits must obtain the approval of the village president.

Taverns may open at 6:00 a. m. and must close at 12:00 midnight on week days, according to the ordinance. Hours for Saturday and Sunday have not been fixed.

PETTY'S NEPHEW IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Killed by Sheriff's Posse When Mistaken for Hunted Arsonist

W. C. Petty, county superintendent, and Mrs. Ruby Richey, instructor of Home Economics at the Antioch high school, were shocked and grieved yesterday morning to learn of the accidental shooting of their nephew, Hershel Petty, 20, a sophomore at the Illinois State Teachers' college at Charleston, Ill.

The youth was killed Tuesday night when mistaken by a sheriff's posse for a man who earlier in the evening had set fire to a barn. Authorities said that Petty's car was similar to that driven by two men, whom the owner of the barn observed to flee from the scene of the fire. The student failed to stop upon command, according to possession. Miss Neva Chapman, who was with Petty, was unhurt.

Frank and Raymond Warman, Charleston, later were arrested and convicted on charges of burning Raymond Seaton's barn. They had both recently completed reformatory sentences on robber charges.

Leave for Olney. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Petty and sons and Mrs. Ruby Richey and son, Paul, left this morning for Olney, Ill., where funeral services will be held tomorrow, according to a brief telegram received yesterday morning.

The student was the oldest child of Petty's brother, and the oldest of several cousins in the Petty family. He was being aided to finish school by Mr. Petty and Mrs. Richey, with whom he visited often during vacations.

John Thalman, superintendent of the Waukegan township high school, will take charge of the Teachers' Institute Saturday, in Petty's absence.

Miss Eleanor Mortenson of Chicago spent Sunday in Antioch with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mortenson.

MARATHONS

by Claudius E. Wade

Did it ever occur to you, what a peculiar slant some people must have on life and some of the things that go to make it up when they will voluntarily become contestants in marathons and exert themselves to the point of utter exhaustion and collapse, and in many instances impair their health for the rest of their life? Also, isn't it just as strange that another group, presumably of greater intelligence, should, in the role of spectators, find cause for much entertainment and enjoyment?

I have heard of many kinds of marathons, such as walking, dancing, rocking, piano-playing, bicycle riding, and talking, but the one that engages me the most comes from Zion, Illinois, where a Mr. Drake, pastor of the Christian Assembly Church, conducted a marathon in Bible reading wherein some thirty fleet-tongued members of his congregation read the entire Bible in sixty-nine hours and seventeen minutes. Then he says, "I am ready now to pick our fastest readers and engage any team from any church anywhere in a speed-reading contest of the Book." Is it not a deplorable condition when ministers who are entrusted with the great responsibility of leading and protecting the flock should be guilty of such sacrifice of reducing man's last hope to a level with the tawdry and commonplace things of the world? Is it any wonder that people today do not believe in ministers and churches? I suggest that Mr. Drake and his congregation take their time when reading their Bible, and when they have read it through thoughtfully and prayerfully, they will realize the folly of their mistake. If marathons must be, let us all enter into a great universal contest to do, every day, the things we ought to do, the very best we can.

MODERN TRANSIENTS NOT BUSINESS ASSETS

A transition is being observed in the attitudes of municipal officials, chambers of commerce and business men toward the location of through traffic routes, according to G. W. Barton, highway engineer for the Chicago Motor Club, who says: "They have found that the through-bound motorists are not an El Dorado flow of business patrons but rather an expensive hazard."

"In the early days of highway development, local groups made pilgrimages to state capitals to make sure that the new highways were routed down the main streets to pass as many business doors as possible. So long as a trip of 150 to 200 miles was a day's journey, this through traffic was a benefit, but as the speed and efficiency of the cars increased, they became a proportionately less a source of revenue and more of a nuisance. Today when speeds of 60 to 75 miles an hour are possible, even with the lowest priced cars, a trip of 300 to 400 miles may be made easily with one or two stops."

Famous French Palace

The palace of Versailles is mostly the work of Louis XIV. It consists of a central block surrounding the three sides of a large court, and of two immense wings, each including two or more courts. The total length of the building with its dependencies is nearly one-half mile. It houses a picture gallery, upon which alone Louis XIV spent $5,000,000.

Corn's Corn to a Hog—But Look What It Is to a Chemist!

Refiners Find Plenty of Uses for Things Nature
Stores in Maize

TURNING a bushel of corn into lard, chops and sausage is no trick for a hog and no news to the public at large, but turning the same bushel of corn into 10 pounds of snow white sugar, a quart of table syrup, a box of fireworks, a pound of salad oil, a cake of soap and enough laundry starch to do the family wash for a month—that's something else again, especially when there is about 25 pounds of good stock feed left over that will give the hog a reasonable meal after all these other things are removed.

And these are only some of the results chemists can get from corn. Its handy uses in the industrial field are drawing the attention of economists to the possibility that here lies some measure of hope for lessening the big farm surpluses. Corn has become a raw material for manufacturers in the limitless markets of industry because of the compounds that nature stores in the ripe grain. The processing is done at plants located in eleven states near the great corn growing districts. These plants are the workshops of the corn refining industry, whose chemists have worked out the intricate series of delicate operations that separate different compounds in the kernel. From the familiar little particle called the "germ," an oil is pressed out and refined into palatable cooking, salad and table oil. From the kernel itself, the hull and the gluten are used in stock feed. The starch that is left is the main basic product—the "ore" of the industry.

Starch not only has an impressive number of uses of its own, but also can be converted into dextrins, syrups or sugars, all of which have their own list of uses. The dextrins are mainly adhesives, such as the gum on stamps and envelopes or the wood varnish glue so widely used in furniture making. Dextrins are also used as a "filler" in paper and textiles or for the body of the popular type of fireworks known as "sparklers."

But perhaps the most impressive products of the starches made from corn are the syrups and sugars. Pure dextrose, a sugar identical with the sugar of the human blood and tissues, is made in large quantities. Dextrose looks like ordinary sugar but does not have the same cloying sweetness. Since it is the same as the sugar of the blood stream it can furnish quick energy with very little digestive effort and its superior nutritive qualities are becoming widely recognized.

The syrups, which have long been familiar as table syrups and in candy making and the preparation of jam, jellies and preserves, contain a generous amount of dextrose and are known to be especially suitable for infant feeding, for invalids and as a source of plentiful energy for growing children, athletes and workers in strenuous occupations.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ-Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 4.

The Golden Text was, "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (1 Cor. 3:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace" (Isaiah 9:2, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The wakeful shepherd beholds the first faint morning beams, ere come the full radiance of a risen day. So shone the pale star to the prophet-shepherds; yet it traversed the night, and came where, in cradled obscurity, lay the Bethlehem babe, the human herald of Christ. Truth, who would make plain to bewildered understanding the way of salvation through Christ Jesus, till across a night of error should dawn the morning beams and shine the guiding star of being" (pref. VII).

It is interesting what a broad, inspiring and expanding view can be obtained through a small window if located on a high point.

Hours of worship are like little windows. They let light into our dark lives; they give us a true perspective upon the smallness of man-made things; they widen our spiritual horizons; they lift us higher and closer to God and help us to catch new visions of Him.

Why not come to Church, open the windows of your soul and look out upon life from this vantage point?

A LETTER FROM Representative LYONS

TO THE PEOPLE OF LAKE, McHENRY and BOONE COUNTIES

During the 57th session of the General Assembly that began in January, 1931, and lasted until January, 1933, I was in session 18 out of the 24 months. . . . Beginning with the 58th session that began in January, 1933, and is still in session, I have been in attendance thus far 14 months. Never in Illinois history have the Legislators been called upon for so many months of extra service — and remember — this service is without pay or expenses outside of actual transportation. This means that I have ACTUALLY been there and the records will show that I have never missed ONE week during this entire time.

Naturally it has been impossible for me to get around my district and greet my many friends and tell them that I am again a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket in the primaries on April 10th. However, I have been on the job representing my district to the very best of my ability. . . . We are still in session and the primaries are only ONE MONTH away.

It behooves me to call this to your attention and urge you to overlook the fact that I have not been around to see you. . . . I feel sure that you expect me to remain at Springfield even though a campaign faces me. This session is dealing with the chaotic situation that our schools are facing and I MUST be there regardless of a campaign. . . . My FIRST DUTY is at Springfield. . . . I feel sure that you will agree with me and if you will bear with me and give me the same loyal support that you have in the past, you may rest assured that I will not violate your confidence and will remain on the job looking after your interests even through the primaries.

REP. RICHARD J. LYONS

Are Other First-Night Victors

Antioch went down in defeat before the strong Deerfield-Shields team from Highland Park, 45-17, Tuesday night, the opening night of the annual district basketball tourney being held at Libertyville this week.

Waukegan proved unexpectedly strong in its tussle with Antioch, but couldn't quite manage to put down the Waukegan team, who squeezed by with a 22-17 victory.

The game was marked by the calling of repeated fouls on both teams, although neither team managed even a fifty percent sinking of free throws.

Ingliside, after holding Libertyville in check for three quarters, lost their grip during the fourth, and the Wildcats ran the score up to a 34-23 victory.

Last night's games were: Lake Zurich vs. Niles Center; Northbrook vs. Warren; and New Trier vs. Deerfield-Shields.

The remainder of the games are scheduled as follows:

Tonight: Game No. 7—Deerfield vs. winner of Game No. 4; Game No. 8—Evanston vs. winner of Game No. 5; Game No. 9—winners of Games 1 and 2.

Friday evening: Game No. 10—winners of Games 3 and 9, at 8 p. m.; Game No. 11—winners of Games 6 and 9 at 9 p. m.

Saturday evening: consolation game at 8 p. m.; championship game at 9 p. m.

A spring concert and dance, presented by the music departments of the Antioch Township high school under the direction of Hans von Holweide, will be held at the high school auditorium Friday evening, March 16.

A musical program by the four McElroy Brothers, Waukegan, was presented before the high school assembly this afternoon.

The Antioch Sequoits took a decided trimming from Palatine in the last conference game of the season Friday night, when the southern boys ran the score up to 58 against Antioch's 27. The second team put up a good scrap, more than holding their own during the last half, and lost by but one point.

Rouse and Blankenship, tall Palatine forwards, were responsible for more than half of the baskets made by their team. Bishop and Steffenburg were the mainstay of the Sequoits.

FARM AND GARDEN
TOPICS*SANITATION IN CHICK BROODING
by C. K. Kuttill
(Instructor of Voc. Agric. Antioch Township High School)

There is money in poultry raising providing the poultryman succeeds in raising a high percentage of his chicks to maturity. He must be constantly alert to the many dangers that lurk in unsuspecting places.

Things should be in readiness before the chicks arrive. The brooder house should be cleaned thoroughly before the chicks are put in. Scrub the floor with soap and hot water.

Drone the ceiling, walls, and floors with a good disinfectant solution. This should be done at least two weeks before chicks arrive so house can be thoroughly dried. Move the brooder house to a new location so it is on new clean ground. This is very important as many diseases are prevented when chicks cannot run on old infested ground. Keep them away from the old flock also.

Run the brooder stove for several days in advance so as to make the adjustments in the thermostat and remove dampness from the house.

Start the chicks with a temperature of 90 to 95 degrees at the edge of the hover. Gradually reduce this during the first 3 weeks down to 80 to 85 degrees. Be sure the thermometer is hung from the edge of the hover when these temperatures are being checked. Also remember that there is as much danger of over-heating chicks as there is of chilling.

berg were Antioch's chief point-men.

them. Keep the temperature constant. If chicks are being brooded during dry weather, keep a pan of water on the brooder stove to insure the proper humidity.

To provide proper ventilation, keep the ventilator near the top of the front wall open most of the time. An opening in the rear wall under the eaves, made the same as the one in front, gives a better exchange of air. In all cases avoid direct draft on the chicks. Have a tight floor so it is warm. A double floor with building paper between is ideal. There should be no floor drafts as chicks live entirely on the floor. Nail a wide board across the bottom of the door entrance. You may have to stop over this, but it will stop drafts for most doors are not fitted well enough.

To keep chicks from eating the litter the first two days while they are learning to eat and drink, cover the litter with paper or burlap. Pink building paper is ideal for this. At first, a guard is necessary to keep the chicks from wandering off and huddling in corners away from the heat. Take a roll of heavy building paper about a foot wide and circle the brooder about fifteen inches from the edge of the hover. Nail lathes on paper to keep it from collapsing. Gradually enlarge the circle, and soon it can be taken away entirely.

Peat moss or shavings make fine litter as both allow droppings to sift to the floor. At the Iowa Experiment Station they have had excellent results with shredded corn cob litter. Have the custom grinder make some for you the next time he comes. Have it ground coarse. At Iowa they only lost a chick or two from eating the litter from several thousands that were brooded. Never use a dusty or moldy litter as it causes respiratory diseases.

Keep the hoppers and fountains clean by either scalding them with hot water or washing them with a disinfectant solution. The fountains should be cleaned every day. Have a two foot mesh hopper and a ten inch diameter fountain for every fifty chicks. Chicks won't eat in the dark so have the feed and water in the front of the house. The stove can be placed slightly toward the rear of the house.

At the end of three or four weeks, build a roost across the back of the house. Let it lie flat on the floor for several days. Then raise the roost about six inches from the floor. Be sure to tack 1-inch mesh wire underneath this roost to keep chicks from getting under and crowding there. This wire will also keep them out of the droppings. In another week raise the rear to about ten inches. Later you can raise the front so the roost is level and about fifteen inches above the floor.

Cleanliness is next to godliness. Practicing this adage in the poultry industry certainly pays big dividends.

Remember the old-time "huckster," with his creaky wagon and its crate of live chickens hanging from the end gate? How the children crowded around to watch malher exchange two dozen eggs for a tin pie pan or a couple of spools of thread!

LIVING AND ELECTRICITY

Living costs are again on the rise. But the price of electricity, so important to your household, is unchanged. It's still the most reasonable item on your general home budget.

From 1913 to 1928 the cost of living went up. Clothes, food, furniture, rent and amusements increased in some cases to double the former figure. While this was happening, the price of electric service was reduced as engineers found more efficient and more economical ways of making and distributing power.

In good times or bad, over a long period of years, the trend of electric rates has always been downward.

PIE A FAVORITE; HERE'S SUCCESS IN MAKING IT

Whether in a fashionable hotel dining room or at a stand where light luncheon are served, pie is always to be found, and when men-folks are concerned, is the most usual choice of dessert.

In making good pie crust, the kind that is flaky and tender enough to cut easily with a fork and yet not so tender that it crumbles, the ingredients are of great importance, according to Inez S. Willson, home economist. Lard, it is agreed is the very best shortening to use, and because it is one of the most plastic fats, it can be worked at a wide range of temperature. This, says Miss Willson, is a distinct advantage.

Pie Crust

2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons lard, cold
About 1/4 cup cold water
Mix the salt with the flour. Combine the fat and flour and salt, but do not overmix. The fat should not be divided into tiny particles, for if it is the pie crust will never be tender and flaky. The fat particles should be about the size of small peas. The combining may be done with a dough blender, a small device which enables one to cut the fat into the flour easily; it may be cut in with two knives; or if you work quickly and deftly it may be done with the fingers.

When the particles of fat are coated with flour, sprinkle a little cold water evenly over the dry mixture, and then, using a fork, mix with a tossing motion, sprinkling more cold water on the top as dry flour and fat come to the top. Continue adding water until the dampened particles stick together when lightly pressed. Divide the dough into halves, and press the particles of each firmly together (but do not knead). Roll one half into a sheet about 1/4 inch thick, then line a slightly floured pan with it. Fill with fruit filling.

Roll the second half into a similar sheet and cut a design on it. Dampen the edge of the lower crust, place the upper crust upon the filling, press the upper crust firmly onto the lower, and trim off the extra pastry.

Bake the pie in a moderately hot oven (425-450 F.) until the fruit is tender and the crust is a golden brown.

Potato and Egg Salad in a Cabbage Shell

To prepare the cabbage shell, halve out the center, then slash it about the edges so that it will open up like a flower. To crisp it, let it stand in cold salted water over night and before filling, drain it well and turn it upside down on a towel to drain still further.

For the filling, mix a quart of finely diced cooked potatoes, with four chopped hard-boiled eggs, a teaspoon grated onion, a half cup French dressing and a third cup of chopped pickles. Then stir in mayonnaise to blend and add salt and pepper as needed. Pack into a shallow bowl which, when inverted, will fit into the top of the cabbage. For unmolding, turn this salad into the cabbage shell, spread it lightly with mayonnaise and decorate the top with slices of pickles to form a flower, with a sliced cooked carrot to form the center and some sprays of parsley to form a further garnish. Small pickled beets and strips of pickled cooked carrot may be used as a further decoration.

Cottage Cheese Club Sandwiches

This sandwich is made of three good sized slices of graham bread toasted on one side only.

Spread the toasted side of one of the slices thick with cottage cheese mashed fine. Put together with another slice buttered on the untoasted side and spread with minced celery. Butter the untoasted side of the third slice and put together with an equal amount of walnuts and raisins mixed with enough butter to spread. Put the sandwich together, having top and bottom slices with the toasted side out. The sandwich is cut diagonally across and served on an individual plate with the halves arranged in diamond shape. Cut the bread immediately after toasting, as otherwise the pressure of cutting crushes out the cheese and spoils the appearance of the sandwich. The cut slices may be placed together again while being filled and the filling may be spread through with a sharp knife.

Suggest High Tea for St. Patrick's

Since Saint Patrick's Day comes on Saturday this year, why not serve a high tea? This sounds like an elaborate celebration, but quite the contrary is true—it is a hospitable, informal meal, very much like a buffet supper, served between five and six o'clock.

Since a high tea is a combination of luncheon, tea, and early dinner, all sorts of liberties may be taken with the menu. Here is a menu suggested by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

St. Patrick's Day Menu
Assorted Hors d'Oeuvres
Broiled "Frenched" Lamb Chops
Boiled Rice Green Peas
Jellied Cucumber Salad
Clover Leaf Rolls Butter
Greenage Ice Cream Coffee

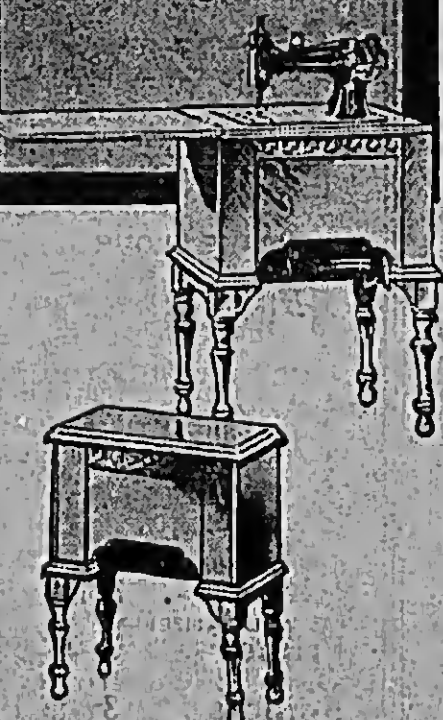

Assorted Hors d'Oeuvres
Large stuffed olives wrapped in thin slices of bacon fastened on with a toothpick and placed under the broiler flame just long enough to cook the bacon make excellent appetizers. Chopped beef, cut fine with scissors, and mixed with mayonnaise and seasoned with a dash of cayenne may be piled on crisp crackers.

Thin slices of ham or the various ready to serve sausages cut in fancy shapes may be served as hors d'Oeuvres.

Broiled "Frenched" Lamb Chops
Have the lamb chops cut about 1 inch thick, also have them frenched at the market; that is, have the meat removed from the ends of the rib bones. Thoroughly preheat the broiler or oven with the oven regulator as high as possible. Put the chops on the broiler rack placed so that there is a distance of about 3 1/4 inches between the top of the chops and the flame. Broil with the oven door open. When the chops are nicely browned on one side, season with salt and pepper and then turn and brown on the other. When the second side is nicely browned the chop will be done. Slip a paper frill over the ends of the rib bones and serve on a bed of boiled rice, sprinkled with chopped parsley.

Slater's Slants —on— SPORTS

By George Slater

With the 16 Big League teams again spread out through the South and West, going through their daily routine of limbering up exercises for the coming pennant scramble, and the start of the season only a month away, the average fan is wondering how their favorites will line up for the coming struggle. So with that thought in mind let's take a preview of the teams that will swing into action April 17th. Since the New York Giants were World Champions last season, we'll give them the preference and look at them first.

Manager Bill Terry intends to stand pat with what he has for '34, and judging from what he did last season it doesn't appear a bad idea. With the exception of pitcher Joe Bowman, who was purchased from Portland of the Pacific Coast league, infielder Frisco Thompson, drafted from Buffalo of the International league, and infielder George Grantham, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, the Giants shape up just as they did last October when they so thoroughly humiliated Washington in the Fall Classic. So then, with an infield composed of Verges or the veteran Jackson at third, Blondy Ryan the spark-plug of the Giants' inner defense, at short, Hughie Critz at the keystone sack and the one, and only Memphis Bill Terry himself at first, the Giant infield needs no apologies from anyone, both defensively and offensively. The outfield consisting of Joe Moore or Lefty O'Doul in left, George "Kiddo" Davis in center and the able Mel Ott in right, without a doubt will give good account of themselves at bat and in the field.

The pitching staff, with Hubbell, the ace southpaw, Hal Schumacher, Bud Parmelee, Fitzsimmons, Clark, and Adolph Luque, which was decidedly the best in the league last season, these seems no reason to hector but what they will be as good this year or very nearly so. The catching department is well taken care of in the person of that great little hustler, Gus Mancuso. But should any accident befall him, Bill Terry would then have to depend on his two rookie catchers who have yet to prove their ability.

The Pittsburgh Pirates. Here's a club which for the past two seasons—especially, have come dangerously close to copping the National League flag, landing a close second both times. But each time there seemed to be lacking that final touch which would anchor the Pirate ship on top. On paper the Buccaneers line up as the best balanced team in the league and without a doubt they have a lot of class, but being as ball games are not won on paper there must be some reason for their not landing the coveted flag. The reason, in this writer's personal opinion, is that they have not had enough consistent pitching. I may be wrong, but then what sport writer isn't wrong?

With the acquisition of Red Lucas for years the star hurler of the Cincinnati team, Manager George Gibson undoubtedly strengthened his pitching staff. But to get Lucas the Pirate chief had to part with Tony Plot, his star second baseman, which very much appears to be strengthening one place but weakening another. The Pittsburgh outfield for the coming race will read: Lindstrom in left, Lloyd Waner, center, and Brother Paul in right, with Wally Reuther, Forrest Jensen and Nick Etten as reserves, which makes up an outfield that is second to none.

In the infield second base is the big question mark. Pl Traynor at third, young Arky Vaughn at short, and Gus Suhr at the initial sack can well take care of themselves. Should either Harry Lavagetto the young sensation from Oakland or the veteran Tommy Thevenon come through at second, most of George Gibson's worries will be over, but that remains to be seen.

The pitching staff, French, Swift, Harris, Hoyt, Melns, Smith and Lucas are no set-ups for anyone. Red Lucas, who at last is with a pennant contender, while getting along in years should enjoy one of his best seasons, especially with a heavy hitting team backing him up. Most of the catching will be done by Earl Grace, the ex-Cub maskman, his understudies will be Finney and Padden, a trio hard to beat.

The Printed WORD

The printed word reaches more people sooner than verbal or personal contacts. It has an approach that rivals that of the best salesman; it often gets in where real salesmen fear to tread. If your business seems to be picking up try reading it the printed word way. You will be rewarded with results.

The Antioch News

spent Monday at the home of his cousin, Mrs. Robert Bonner.

Mr. and Mrs. Kopper and children and Miss Betty Kopper of Waukegan were supper guests at the Trux home Saturday evening.

Rev. Holden and daughter, Edith, and Mr. Rogers were guests for dinner at the J. S. Denman home Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Martin spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Florence Achen, in Kenosha.
